BONUS SESSIONS:
KEYNOTE SESSION: “Grit: The Difference Maker in Your Business and Life” | Casey Terrell
In the keynote session, Casey Terrell will challenge participants to think about what really makes them tick. Regardless of where you find yourself on your organization’s corporate ladder, your ability to apply yourself with passion and persistence over time is the number one indicator of your ability to meet your goals. To help you meet those goals Casey will explore the research of Angela Duckworth and others who have studied grit in everyone from Navy Seals to National Spelling Bee champions and everyone in between, and then provide you the opportunity to apply those same lessons to your career and business. During this session you will learn what grit is and is not, and more importantly, why it is the critical factor to determining your long-term success. Then, you will have an opportunity to evaluate exactly how gritty you currently are. Finally, you will learn finite ways to grow your grit and the science and real-life applications behind them. Walking away from this session you will have the tools to build your grit one day at a time and apply your newfound knowledge to the challenges you or your business face, whatever those challenges may be.

30-MINUTE CHALLENGE (WRAP UP): “The Next 5 Minutes” | Casey Terrell
What gives us the power to change our businesses and our lives? The answer is simple: The next 5 minutes. Building on the idea of Grit, this session will help you evaluate what you have learned throughout the conference, pick out the ideas and information that will make a difference in your life, and provide you with a never-fail strategy for effectuating the changes you want to see in your workplace and sphere of influence.
